English

Chanchala sits quietly in the class. When asked any question or when she is asked to speak only then she speaks. To learn the songs she takes time but gradually she picks up the lyrics. She had difficulty in learning The God poem. She likes to do drama. She doesn't have any problem in delivering the dialogues. She can remember the dialogues well. In both the drama Ganesha's Wisdom and Goldilocks and the three bears, she was given the role of narrator.

Math

Chanchala is a very quiet girl. She is attentive in the class. When she started doing Maths she was a bit shy and afraid in the class. At first, she started counting the numbers till twenty with objects like the empty pens, pebbles, sticks, beads and other objects. She was a bit slow in learning the numbers and she was very much confused. When she counted the numbers till ten, she used to skip some of the numbers in between and count. She struggled a lot just to learn the numbers till twenty. She took time to learn but eventually succeeded. Till she got the clarity of all the numbers till twenty she did not move forward. After she was clear in counting the numbers till twenty, she started counting the numbers after twenty and learnt till hundred. When she was comfortable in forward counting she started counting the numbers backwards from hundred. She did the backward counting very well, but she got confused in saying the numbers just before twenty, thirty, forty, fifty, sixty, seventy, eighty, and ninety. But gradually she managed to learn them. She also did the skip counting of two's and did it a bit faster because she had recognized the pattern.

But she took some time in learning the skip of three, four, five and six. Before learning all these things, she has also played with the jodo cubes, aakar parivar and rangometry. Using these objects she segregated them according to their colours, shapes, and sizes. In aakar parivar she also could put the missing pieces of shapes in the correct place. She arranged the objects from ascending to descending and descending to ascending. She was very good in arranging them in to ascending to descending and descending to ascending. After she had assimilated these things, she also started recognizing the digits from one to ten with the help of objects and pictures and numbers with pics. She also did the number recognition by hearing the creative stories, making pictures using the numbers and also some songs related to the numbers. She had a lot of enthusiasm and interest while recognizing the numbers. She also played with the math cards and was very good at showing the numbers on the math cards. After recognizing the numbers she started writing them till twenty.

She faced some difficulties in writing some of the numbers like four, five and six.
