Report for 2023-24 (First Term)

ENGLISH

I have one hour of English class in the afternoon, and Sangita didi, Kamli didi, Bina didi, and Bikanti didi are my teachers for English. I enjoy doing grammar in English class, especially topics like adjectives and nouns. I like the grammar textbook the most. However, I don't particularly enjoy doing book work because of the long question-answer sections, which I find less interesting.

During free reading, I read attentively, and I feel good when I read in my English class. I make sure not to sleep during class. On Sundays, I have watched movies like "Free Willy 4," "Charlie Chaplin 2," and more.

Didi has taught us poems, and I enjoyed learning and reciting the poems "Who" and "Invitation."

HINDI

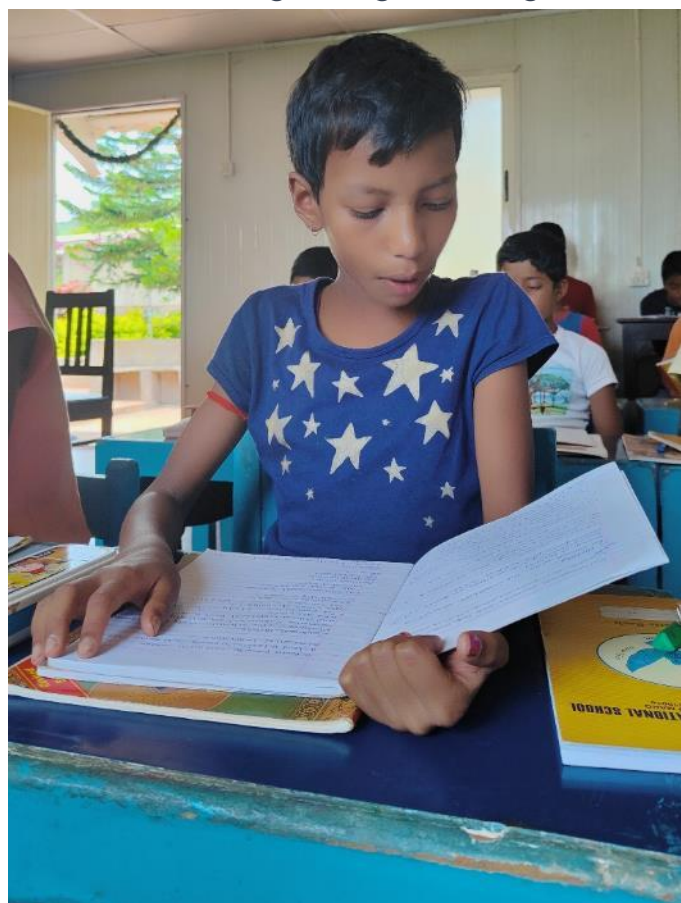

Rachna is currently revisiting the 5th-grade book by Gunjan to clarify any doubts she might have. She diligently checks her notebooks after working on her assignments and has no hesitation in asking her teacher for word meanings when required. Occasionally, she struggles to understand certain grammar concepts from the 5th-grade book. However, she actively engages in both group and free reading sessions. Her reading skills have significantly improved, and she can now read complex words with ease. In dictation, she makes very few mistakes, and when she does, she writes them down ten times to correct them. She is attentive and unafraid to ask questions in class. She quickly memorizes songs taught during lessons and pays great attention during class. On July 5th, she participated in a play called "Andher Nagri," taking on the role of the "Baniya." While she initially had trouble remembering her lines, practise helped her excel. For Chachaji's birthday, she was part of a play that told the story "Mangna Hai Jo Khuda Se Mang." In this play, she portrayed a farmer. On August 15th, she was involved in a dance performance called "Sandese Aate Hain." Although she had some difficulties with the final performance, she put in her best effort. Rachna thoroughly enjoys her Hindi class.

MATHS

Rachna is currently studying the 5th-grade book. Her favourite subject is mathematics, and she greatly enjoys working with math. She is a highly intelligent girl who, over the past few months, has been taught various topics, such as fractions, decimals, measurements of capacity and length, and geometry. She excels in fractions and can easily answer questions given by her teachers. However, she occasionally struggles with placing the decimal point correctly in decimals. Geometry is a new topic for her, and she finds it somewhat challenging to grasp the questions presented in her textbook. Rachna is a dedicated student who regularly reviews her notebook. While she answers many questions from the book, she tends to make minor errors, particularly in simple addition and subtraction. Her handwriting is decent, and she is actively working to improve it further.

SCIENCE

Rachna is very enthusiastic and a charming child. Even if she doesn't understand a topic, she doesn't give up until she perfects it. She is a hardworking and consistent child who always performs well in science. Even if she receives low scores, she always motivates herself to improve her mistakes. She is not afraid to ask questions or participate in discussions, but she needs to put in more effort and work on her writing skills. She has finished many topics like "Life Cycle of a Cockroach," "Butterfly," and has shown great progress in science. She enjoys practical experiences and observations, especially during activity time. She loves science and, if she concentrates in class, she will excel.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

Rachna is currently studying the sixth book of history after completing the sixth book of civics. She scored fifteen and a half out of fifty-five in the civics whole book test. She pays attention to improving her handwriting when taking notes and tries to convey her understanding clearly in her answers. Rachna actively participates in group discussions, even if she doesn't know the answer, and isn't shy about asking questions to seek clarification. She's a hardworking student who never gives up.

ODIA

Rachna is a good student who comes to class on time and is hardworking. She understands the language and makes an effort to improve her language skills. Rachna knows all the alphabets properly but needs clarity in all the matras. She can read quite well and write a few words with correct matras. She takes an interest in listening to stories and watching animated films based on different stories. When given dictation, she scores average marks and corrects her words once her notebook is checked. She is proactive in seeking clarification whenever she has doubts.

COMPUTER

ARTS

Rachna is a curious child, whenever she doesn't understand she asks her teachers again and again. She is attentive during the class and follows every instructions given to her by the teachers. In these past few months she has made drawings, hanging shapes and other things. She is really interested in art.

DANCE

In my dance class, I thoroughly enjoy dancing. I participate in various dance forms, including Kathak, Kathakali, and Bharat Natyam. However, among these, my favourite is Kathak. Kathak is a classical dance form that I find the most appealing.

On July 5th, I performed the Bhangda dance in class. My dance teachers are Brishti didi, Suparna didi, and Gauri didi. Whenever I find it challenging to grasp the dance steps, I don't hesitate to ask my teachers to explain them again. Their guidance and patience help me improve.

Dance is my passion, and I love it more than anything else. I believe that I will continue to cherish the joy of dancing forever.

MUSIC

Rachna, another newcomer to the tabla class, can play teental, but she tends to stop frequently during her practice. Her hand coordination is a work in progress, and with further practise, she is expected to play more smoothly. She finds joy in learning tabla.

GAMES

Rachna is always on time during this period and gives her best while playing. She also enjoys warming up with the other children in her team. Her favourite game is football, although she plays other games as well, and she strives to excel in these games. She participates actively in all the activities without hesitation.

SHRAMDAAN

Rachna is known for her punctuality and meticulous work. She willingly takes on any assignment without complaints. She takes pleasure in cleaning the girls' hostel with her friends, which involves scrubbing the floors, wiping the tiled walls, and removing cobwebs, among other tasks.

CELEBRATIONS

20th June Rath Yatra

This day is a very memorable day as the children of our school danced together without feeling shy, and even those who used to say that they did not dance, danced. It was a really fascinating sight to see. I was amidst the crowd, dancing with my friends.

30th August Raksha Bandhan

Taking advantage of this special occasion, I tied Rakhi to my brother Deepak and fed him a sweet. He was very happy to be tied a Rakhi by his sister, and of course, later on, my other sisters tied Rakhi to him and fed him ladoos.

7th September Janmashtami

I was very confident while learning the song as well as singing it on stage. I sang it without any mistake and in tune with my classmates.

19th September Ganesh Chaturthi

I was standing in the second row of the group and was dancing very well. I was very confident while dancing, and after performing it on the stage, I got a feeling that I had really danced well. I liked watching the other children's dances very much and enjoyed myself.
