Report for 2023-2024 (First Term)

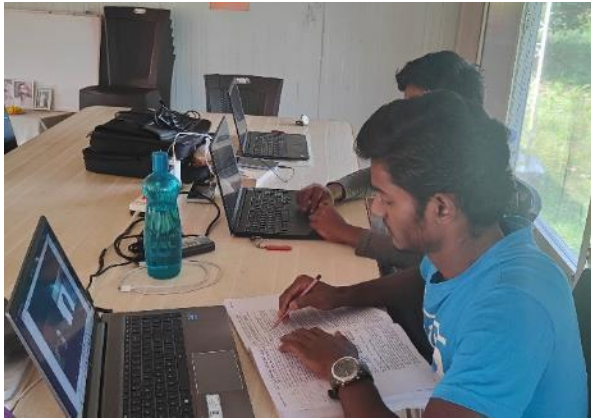

Greetings to all,

I am Basant, and I'm both a student and volunteer at Auro-Mira Vidya Mandir. Currently, I am pursuing my graduation in B.Com (Hons.) from IGNOU (Indira Gandhi National Open University). I'm excited to share my progress and experiences during the first term of this academic year.

Academic Pursuits

I am delighted to inform you that I have made significant progress in my studies. I have successfully cleared all the papers I appeared for in June and am now preparing for the remaining papers scheduled for December. To support my academic journey, I am taking online classes in Entrepreneurship from Ms. Sharmila Datta in Delhi, and Indian Economy from Sandeep Saha in Kolkata. Additionally, I am also studying Accounting under the guidance of Pranjal Bhaiya.

Volunteering

In addition to my academic commitments, I actively engage in volunteering activities at my school. I am involved in helping younger students with their studies. Specifically, I teach mathematics to 6th-grade students in the Perseverance Group. I also assist the Victory

Group children, who are 8 years old, with their project work. We engage in various activities during project classes, including drawing and watching educational videos.

This year, we have introduced new activities such as music, dance, speeches, art, general knowledge, and storytelling on a weekly basis. Leveraging my expertise in playing the flute, I conduct music lessons for the students.

Celebrations

Our school is vibrant with celebrations, and the past six months have been no exception. We observed several festivals and events, including our school's birthday, Independence Day, Ganesh Chaturthi, Janmashtami, Raksha Bandhan, and Rath Yatra. During our School's Birthday celebration, the Gratitude Group presented a small orchestra, and I had the pleasure of playing the keyboard with them.

One of the most enjoyable events was the Rath Yatra, during which we collectively pulled the chariot from the school to the hostel. While I don't actively participate in programs due to my exam preparations, I have the important role of capturing these moments through photographs and videos.

Sports

Sports have always been a passion of mine, and I am actively involved in various games, including football, basketball, and volleyball. I give my best effort and continually work on improving my skills in these sports. Additionally, I have a special fondness for swimming. This year, I not only had the opportunity to swim but also taught younger children how to swim, which was an enriching experience.

I am grateful for the diverse experiences and opportunities I've had in the past six months. Balancing my academics, volunteering, celebrations, and sports has been both challenging and rewarding. I look forward to continuing my journey with enthusiasm and dedication in the coming term.

Thank you for your support and encouragement.
