CLOTHES:

Kansula is a very bright girl and is very quick at grasping most of the things which are taught. But she needs to be alert and active in the class without getting distracted by her friends. She was very much interested in learning the clothes song and enjoyed dancing on this song. Whenever she starts a new topic, she is always curious about it. She asks a lot of questions related to the topics. She needs to improve her hand skills. She is able to put the buttons of a shirt, but she takes time in folding the clothes. She needs improvement in folding papers and doing origami. She was very happy seeing the different types of clothes which were hanging in the group.

MATH

Kansula is a smart girl but she needs more concentration. She is good in maths. She is able to show most of the numbers on the Ganit Mala by reading which number is shown on the flash card. She is able to write the numbers from one to one thousand without a problem. Nobody taught her how to write the number one thousand but she could write it by herself. Her mental addition is not that good but when she writes it on the slate and does it then she is very fast. She is good in expanding the numbers of two digits and the three digit numbers.

DANCE

Kansula exhibits a high level of interest and energy during dance sessions. She shows proficiency in executing dance steps and is currently learning Kathak basics along with the peacock dance routine. Kansula's enthusiasm for dance extends to folk dances from Uttarakhand and Assam, reflecting her diverse interests in the art form.

ENGLISH

Kansula is too much excited in most of the things and has a lot of over-confidence. This is why she is a little behind the other bright children. She has recognized all the capital and small letters. She has learned all the sounds of single letters and also the double letters. But now she has started reading the simple three letter words but is still confused with the sounds and gets slow in reading the words. She has a lot of interest in listening to the stories and also gives answers to the questions that are asked to her.
