Report for 2024-25 (first term)

Introduction

Satrupa is from Leduguda and has three sisters: two elder and one younger. She loves her little sister and takes care of her in the hostel. Satrupa speaks to everyone in a friendly manner, which makes her well-liked within her group. Her best friends are Ruhani and Abhipsa. She maintains good health and hygiene. Her hobbies include dancing and drawing. An intelligent girl, she loves to study, pays attention in class, and grasps whatever is taught. She particularly enjoys studying Maths, Science, and Social Science.

Mathematics

Satrupa is working on the fifth book in mathematics. She loves and enjoys doing maths and approaches it with interest. She has just finished the chapter on factors and is currently continuing with fractions. She is nearly finished with the fractions chapter. She faces difficulties in solving word problems but tries her best to solve them. When she gets the correct answer after working through a word problem, she feels very excited. She is working hard to finish her book. Her understanding is good; she is able to grasp concepts quickly. Whenever the group is given questions to solve, she is the first one to complete them. Her mental calculations are strong.

Science

Satrupa is an intelligent girl who enjoyed the Class 4 course book, covering chapters such as food and digestion. She likes these topics because she believes healthy eating is essential for fitness. She usually scores well on tests and eagerly answers questions when asked. Her writing is clear and legible. She also helps her friends during their studies. In the Class 4 course book, she loved the chapter on atoms and molecules, as she can now differentiate between them and operate instruments like microscopes and telescopes independently.

Social Science

Satrupa loves social science class because she learns many things.

She is currently studying the 6th-grade book and has covered three chapters. After finishing each chapter, she takes a test, scoring above 75%. She enjoys taking tests and asks whenever she has doubts. She is eager to learn about early humans and enjoys watching related movies. In history, she has learnt how to express dates in BC and AD, as well as techniques for making tools. She actively participates in class, asks questions, and helps her friends when they need assistance.

She finds the class

more interesting when engaging in activities like drawing and colouring.

Hindi

Satrupa is a standout student, displaying remarkable intelligence and a genuine passion for learning. Her ability to read stories fluently and with a clear, resonant voice reflects her advanced reading skills. Additionally, she demonstrates a deep understanding of the stories she reads and particularly enjoys engaging in self-reading activities.

In weekly group reading sessions, Satrupa's advanced reading abilities may occasionally lead to restlessness due to her quicker pace. Despite this, she actively participates in dictation exercises following group readings and exhibits excellent spelling skills.

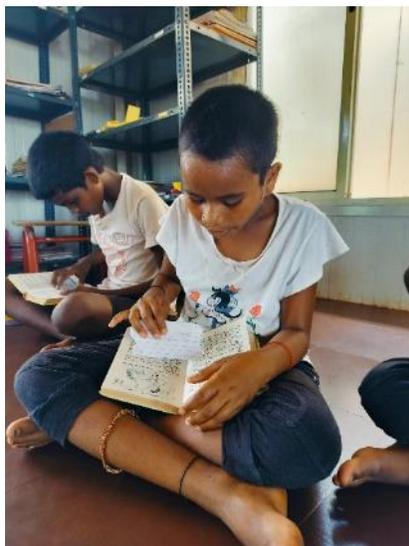

Satrupa has made significant progress in structured book work. She has completed "Gunjan Book 3" and is nearly finished with "Gunjan Book 4." She is very punctual about getting her notebook checked, with most of her answers correct. She scored well on the test for "Gunjan Book 3." She is also working on grammar book 2, where she learns the chapters in the group and solves the questions as homework. When she takes tests of the chapters, she finds it very easy to solve the questions.

On the 5th of July, she performed a play Ishwar Kahan Hai, where she had the role of a girl who tells the king where God is. She had many dialogues, which she remembered well. Her acting was excellent, and she enjoyed doing the play. Her voice was loud and clear.

English

During English class, Satrupa is always in a good mood, with a smile on her face. She participates in various activities, such as grammar, textbook exercises, group reading, and self-reading. She is nearly finished with her Class 3 grammar book but has a little trouble with singular and plural forms, often using singular words in plural sentences. In her textbook, she also enjoys reading interesting stories and short poems. In group reading, we are exploring The Water Babies and other complete books; she loves this book, and she is quick to ask questions if she has any issues. In writing, she has been practising copywriting to improve her handwriting and often writes her own stories on writing days. Recently, she wrote a story for Raksha Bandhan titled "Mohan and His Sister Roma." In free reading, she enjoys a book called The Brave Toy. At the end of class, we also play Hangman for fifteen minutes.

Odia

Satrupa never hesitates to speak Odia. She reads with good pronunciation, and her written work showcases refined penmanship.

Arts and Crafts

Satrupa has participated in several art activities. She has made tulip and rabbit boxes, Rakhi for Raksha Bandhan, and many beautifully finished drawings. Satrupa loves nature drawing and has created illustrations for her calendar. When she was taught to make tulips, she was the first child to finish, showing no difficulty in folding the papers; she presses the paper neatly, and all her work is very neatly finished. When making Rakhi, she felt confused about which design to choose. In quilling, she struggled, but her passion for drawing is evident, and she is always curious about what she will learn next in art class. She is very quiet while working.

Puzzles

Satrupa likes doing puzzle class. She is able to fix puzzles easily, which is why she enjoys them. She can complete a hundred-piece puzzle alone, but it takes her some time. Fifty-piece puzzles are easy for her. While fixing puzzles, she enjoys working with her friends. She can even complete puzzles without looking at the picture board. She is excited to tackle both hundred and five-hundred-piece puzzles. She also tries her best to concentrate in class while doing puzzles.

Dance

taught a dance to the song "Meera Ke Prabhu." For Ganesh Chaturthi, we learnt a Kathak dance from Suparna didi. I have learnt the names of the fingers in Sanskrit and I also know some mudras of classical dance. Now, I am learning the steps of classical dances. I know the Bhumi Pranam of Kathak dance and Bharatnatyam. I have learnt some steps of Kathak dance and I am now refining them with perfection with Suparna didi.

I like taking dance class because when I grow up, I want to become a dancer like Amita didi. I aspire to be a classical dancer. I learn classical dance from Suparna didi. On Rath Yatra, we performed a dance to an Odia song. For the 15th of August competition, I did a solo dance performance to the song "Teri Mitti." I put forth my best effort with my facial expressions and won first prize. On Independence Day, we performed the "Jai Ho" dance. For Janmashtami, we were

Yogasana

Satrupa knows that yogasana is essential for her health and fitness, as well as for increasing her body's flexibility. Therefore, she attends the yogasana class regularly. Although her body is a bit stiff and she struggles with some asanas, especially chakrasana, which she finds most difficult, she is encouraged by Bina didi and tries her best to perform the asanas to the best of her ability. By persistently trying, Satrupa has made significant improvements in many asanas, making her body more flexible than before.

She particularly enjoys doing Surya Namaskaar (Sun Salutation).

Shramdaan

After the yogasana class, Satrupa actively engages in various shramdaan activities, such as gardening, kitchen work, toilet cleaning, school cleaning, and cleaning both the boys' and girls' hostels. She enjoys school cleaning the most, as she learns how to clean the campus effectively. Although Satrupa likes other shramdaan activities, she doesn't enjoy toilet cleaning much.

Games

Satrupa loves playing games and understands that they help keep her body strong and healthy. She participates in games every day and diligently warms up with running and exercises before playing. She needs to improve her running speed and build more stamina to play effectively. Satrupa plays various games, including football, basketball, dodgeball, and fun games like kabaddi, rani kabaddi, kho-kho, and chain games. Her favourite game is football, followed closely by basketball, which she has been learning for a few months. She enjoys learning basketball from Lulu Bhaiya and has made significant progress in dribbling, catching, passing, and shooting. She has a lot of fun practising these skills, especially passing the ball with her partner and then shooting for the basket.

Satsang

Satrupa likes to attend satsang every evening at 6:15. She enjoys chanting mantras, singing bhajans, and other songs. She needs to improve her sitting posture while chanting and singing. Satrupa takes an interest in learning Geeta chants every Thursday from Sangita didi and chants them properly. She also enjoys learning bhajans and songs on other days and has great fun listening to stories every Monday.

Competitions

In the competitions held in August, Satrupa participated in art, dance, and Hindi poetry writing. She had a great time taking part in these competitions and worked hard, especially for the dance. She chose the song and created her own steps. Performing solo in costume for the competition, she danced confidently. She also enjoyed drawing nature for the art competition, winning second prize, which made her very happy. She aims to improve her drawing skills for the next competition by practising in her free time. Satrupa gained new knowledge not only from the competitions she participated in but also from watching others, learning about general knowledge through quiz competitions and global warming during speeches by other children.

Celebrations

Satrupa loves celebrating festivals at school and actively participates in programmes. She enjoys performing dances and dramas. On the school's birthday, she gave a beautiful performance of a Kathak dance and also enacted a play titled 'Ishwar Kahaan Hai', in which she played the main character. She performed well, speaking her dialogues confidently and acting appropriately. Satrupa had great fun celebrating Rath Yatra, where she performed the Kathak dance again while pulling the rath from the school to the hostel. She also enjoyed dancing to the song 'Hatare Badhi' with her group during Bahuda Yatra. With a keen interest in dancing, she was able to learn the steps for other performances on Independence Day, Janmashtami, and Ganesh Chaturthi, to the songs 'Jai Ho', 'Mira Ke Prabhu', and the chant 'Vakratunda Mahakaya', respectively. She delivered beautiful performances by mastering these dances in a short period. Satrupa also enjoyed celebrating Raksha Bandhan, where she made a rakhi by herself and tied it to Abhipsa, her best friend.
