morning and the houses were made of bricks and mud. In the morning we went to take bath in the Brahma Kund and in the day we did some activities like walking on the glass bridge and did sky cycling, where I got stuck due to less weight. We went to the waterfall, visited the Pandu Pokhar where there were many activities for the kids and the adults, like gun shooting, basketball, carrom, bull riding, maze, Zip line, and bungee jumping, etc. I also visited in Bodh Gaya- the famous Mahabodhi temple. It was a wonderful place where many monks were visiting and were meditating, and were chanting mantras. While returning from Bihar, we stayed one night in Rourkela and in the evening, we took
