Report for 2023-24 (First Term)

Maths

Jigyasa is highly interested in mathematics and has completed the 3rd-grade book, now working on the 4th-grade book. She can solve a few questions in class but may struggle to find her own mistakes when her answers are incorrect.

Projects-

Birds

In this bird's topic she learnt many things about the birds like the 4 types of birds, what is down stroke and upstroke movement and etc. When she was learning about the 4 types of birds then she was little confused about that which birds will come under whose category. While she could differentiate between various bird species, she occasionally encountered confusion regarding their features and body parts. Her interest in birds grew as she learned new vocabulary, and she diligently sought to answer questions during class sessions. Her book contained both bird drawings and descriptions, reflecting her commitment to the topic.

She was attentive in the class, and could answer some of the questions asked by the teachers she knew few names of birds before doing the birds topic but after completing this birds topic she now knows names of many birds. She has also learnt some new vocabulary while doing this topic and also know the meanings and also the usage of the words. She and her classmates along with the teachers went for the nature walk and explored their surroundings. In the surrounding she saw various kinds of birds, some of which she could recognize and some which she couldn't recognize. They were given books to read related to the birds and got information from the books. They watched some documentaries about the birds, and got to see a lot of beautiful as well as interesting facts about the birds. She drew beautiful drawings of the birds independently and also wrote about the birds which she had drawn. She now knows about the different parts and different types of the birds which she did not know before. She wrote a story of the bird, the name of the story is 'The crow and the peacock' and made a book on the birds. She put a lot of efforts to make her drawings and writings beautiful and tidy. A little help of the teacher was needed to in making the book. She has participated in the family topic and she liked it a lot. In this topic she has learnt that what they call their family members in English before doing this topic she knew it only in local dialect. She has participated in drawing, reading and making the puppets. She is able to write two three sentences without any meaning but her hand writing is very good.

Occupation

Jigyasa wants to become a soldier when she grows up because she wants to protect her country from our enemies. She also wants to do hard work like the soldiers do while training. She did a role play about it and spoke a few lines about it to her friends. She had made a very beautiful drawing about soldiers, and it was very neat and clean. Her handwriting is also very beautiful.

Hindi

Jigyasa is open and proactive in class. Her reading and handwriting have improved significantly, and she reads both thin and thick books with ease. She's enthusiastic to learn but at times get distracted. She enjoys copywriting and is diligent about correcting mistakes.

English

Jigyasa is enthusiastic about her English class. Her English handwriting is notably good, and she actively participates and pays attention in class. She makes an effort to communicate in English, although her pronunciation may need improvement. Jigyasa isn't the strongest at spelling during dictations, but she gives her best attempt. She can read books across three to four different levels, and when encountering challenging words, she seeks assistance from her teacher. When assigned homework, she diligently completes it and ensures it is neatly done.

During Janmashtami, Jigyasa had an opportunity to perform in a drama and portrayed the role of a guard, an experience she thoroughly enjoyed.

Jigyasa is interested in learning songs, poems, and plays. She has a loud and melodic voice and prefers plays to singing. Jigyasa is inclined to mimic English spoken in different dialects, and she has a strong interest in watching English movies. She retains old songs she learned with enthusiasm.

Odia

Jigyasa focuses well in class, understands the language, and is able to speak in Odia.

Although she knows all the alphabets, she faces some difficulty in pronouncing specific letters. Jigyasa remembers counting up to 20 in Odia and enjoys listening to stories, participating in activities, and singing songs with clear words.

Arts and Crafts

Jigyasa creates exceptionally beautiful drawings, characterized by neatness and full coverage of the paper. She prefers nature drawings and excels in shading. Jigyasa is quiet, paying full attention to her work, and uses a stool for drawing. Her enthusiasm is evident, especially when using watercolours.

Puzzles

Jigyasa is skilled at puzzles ranging from 60 to 100 pieces. Her concentration varies; she can sometimes become overly talkative or be highly focused, depending on her mood. She, too, enjoys viewing the completed puzzle images. Like many, Jigyasa requires help when solving 100-piece puzzles.

Games and Sports-

Jigyasa is in Boron group. She likes football because she tries to score goals, runs and passes the ball well.
