Report for 2023-24 (First Term)

Introduction

Saloni is a regular and punctual student who maintains good personal hygiene and cleanliness. She arrives at school on time and enjoys playing in the sand pit. She's quick to clean herself, eat all the vegetables and food in the hostel, and occasionally hurries through her meal to have more time for play.

Circle Time

During circle time, Saloni sits with crossed legs and actively participates in chanting with a loud and clear voice. She enjoys singing songs with actions, remembers the lyrics, and sings confidently with actions.

Languages

Hindi

In Hindi, Saloni likes to listen to stories from picture books and shows a strong understanding of the full story. She can answer questions related to the story, retell the story sequence-wise with the help of pictures, and even create sensible stories based on her own drawings. In the "Myself" topic, she confidently presents her introduction in full sentences. In the "Body Parts" topic, Saloni excels at explaining the functions of body parts, and she has learned a song related to body parts.

topic, she confidently presents her introduction in full sentences. In the "Body Parts" topic, Saloni excels at explaining the functions of body parts, and she has learned a song related to body parts.

English

Saloni enjoys listening to short stories with books and poppets, and she can understand these stories to an extent. She tries to answer questions in English and has learned some rhymes and vocabulary from picture books. She's also familiar with the names of body parts and relationships within the family.

Mathematics

Saloni actively engages with mathematical concepts and has made impressive progress. She can count forward and backward from 1 to 100 without the need for objects, though she may occasionally require some assistance with backward counting. She can provide correct answers up to number 30 and understands numbers after and before. Saloni is proficient in distinguishing between big and small numbers, as well as breaking numbers into tens and ones. She can perform single-digit additions without objects, although she relies on objects when numbers become larger. She excels in skip counting by twos and has shown remarkable progress despite joining the group later.

Skill work

She enjoys all the activities in art class and approaches them with interest. Her drawings often focus on flowers and trees, and she takes pleasure in colouring them. She excels in paper folding and prefers making houses. Her favourite colour is orange, and she also helps others when she finishes her work.

Celebrations

Saloni enjoys doing dance and singing, and she remembers her part quickly. Her participation in various activities, including drama, dance, and celebrating events, has been notable. On different occasions, she has performed a drama about body parts, danced to "Sri Aurobindo Name Ananda," made Rakhi and tied it to the grace group children, performed a dance for Janmashtami to "Adharm Madhuram," and danced to "O My Friend Ganesha" for Ganesh Puja.

Games

Saloni is an active and cheerful girl who maintains her strength and cheerfulness during games. She has good agility, plays all games with enthusiasm, and never fights with others. She enjoys learning new games and has a fast grasp of game rules. Her favourite games include "blindfold catching," "catch the monkey," and "hide and seek."
