Introduction

I am Malti Paraja, 17 years old, and my favourite hobby is dancing. I have completed my 12th-grade studies and recently took exams in English and sociology. I dedicate four hours to volunteering in a class where I teach young children songs, as well as English and Hindi. Additionally, I attend puzzle classes, which I thoroughly enjoy.

Shramdaan (Work Offering)

During shramdan, I actively participate in various tasks, including kitchen work, toilet cleaning, hostel maintenance, gardening, school cleaning, and girls' hostel cleaning. In the kitchen, I'm responsible for vegetable preparation. In toilet cleaning, I ensure the toilets, bathrooms, drains, and basins are thoroughly cleaned, and I also sweep the floors. During hostel cleaning, I sweep the verandas, mop the dining area tables, and clean the tiles. In gardening, I remove weeds and water the plants. School cleaning involves sweeping the school campus and mopping the floors, while in girls' hostel cleaning, I mop the staircase, common areas, and clean the toilets. Additionally, I take care of filling water in the filters. I find great satisfaction in contributing through shramdan activities.

Games

My daily routine includes rounds and joint exercises as part of my physical fitness regimen. After that, I head to the basketball court. I have made significant improvements in my basketball skills and it has become my favourite game.

Celebrations and Festivals

At my school, we celebrate various festivals such as Holi, Janmashtami, Raksha Bandhan, Ganesh Chaturthi, Independence Day, and more. I have particularly fond memories of Rath Yatra, during which I danced enthusiastically to the devotional songs of Lord Jagannath. For Ganesh Chaturthi, my group and I performed a traditional Pahadi dance.

On Independence Day, we presented a play about the brave revolutionaries, with me taking on the role of the narrator. It was a memorable experience filled with joy and celebration.
