Report for 2024-25 (Second term)

Introduction

Anamika is a sharp child. She replies very quickly when she is asked something. She doesn't have a father and misses him a lot. She enjoys spending time with her mother when she goes home every Tuesday. She has a few friends whom she loves dearly and even shares sweets with them when she gets from home. She is very active. She had got scabies but now she has recovered from it. She loves the colour blue a lot, because it is the colour of the sky. She enjoys looking at the blue sky and imagines various things. Her hobbies are reading books and singing songs. She likes to sing songs when she is alone, especially while walking on the road.

Mathematics

Anamika is working on improving her focus in class. She is curious and enjoys exploring things around her, and with gentle reminders, she is learning to stay attentive. When she listens carefully, she understands concepts easily. While solving word problems, she often skips reads the question thoroughly and does not make an effort to understand herself.

She understands decimal word problems better when someone presents with a simple, real-life examples, which helps her solve them successfully.

At the beginning of the decimal concept, she showed a keen interest in learning and actively participated in all activities. However, as she progressed and learnt more about decimals, she gradually lost interest, especially when solving multiplication and division problems. Despite receiving special attention, she still struggles with correctly placing the decimal points. She is now learning about perimeter and area, actively engaging in classroom activities and participating in discussions.

Science

Anamika likes to do the question answers of the chapters the most. She does it all by herself without taking help. She also likes doing experiments with her friends. She always asks lots of questions related to the chapters. She is a very curious girl. Whenever she has doubts, she is the first one to ask. She is usually focused in class. She does well in the tests, but can do better. She enjoyed studying the chapter Sources of Food. The question answers of this chapter were also very easy for her to solve.

Social Science

Anamika loves making charts in the social science class. She enjoys participating in debates, discussing concepts like- village and town. She asks lots of questions to clear her doubts. She is nearly going to finish her history book, after which she will start the geography book. She asks many questions and provides lots of answers when asked. Before giving the written test, she is often given an oral test. She does all the work properly during the class.

Hindi

Anamika demonstrates remarkable talent and potential, although there is room for improvement in her attentiveness during class. Her independent reading skills are good and she can read and understand the stories. During weekly group reading sessions, Anamika's proficiency in reading surpasses that of her peers, which occasionally leads to decreased engagement. However, she actively participates in dictation exercises following group readings, showcasing her strong spelling abilities. She can write good stories and when she is given any topic, she can write an essay. She is a talented girl but, when she feels like studying, then only she studies well. By working hard she has finished class 3rd Gunjan book and gave a test. And now she is doing the 4th book, and likes doing it. She has learnt how to do dialogue writing. In grammar she understands the chapter in the class, and she tries to solve the questions given. And after that she takes a small test. On the 21st of February she had performed a play where she had got the role of the narrator.

English

In English Anamika is studying the fourth class book of grammar. She enjoys learning English because she gets to learn new words and their meaning. She understands things quickly as she is a quick learner and in the class she is also working on the third class textbook. She enjoys reading her book which she has issued from the library like the little brown bear. In grammar she is learning about nouns, adjectives, pronouns and verbs and she really likes to take dictations. Some of the books she has read in these few months are forgetful fanny, hold your tongue, they can't catch brave rabbit, the man who drew faces, Santa gets busy and the little girl who was shy. She works hard on her speaking.

Dance

Anamika loves to dance and is always on time for class. She enjoys learning new steps and picks them up quickly. She performed Dashavatar for Sports Day and has also learnt the basic steps of Kathak.

Arts

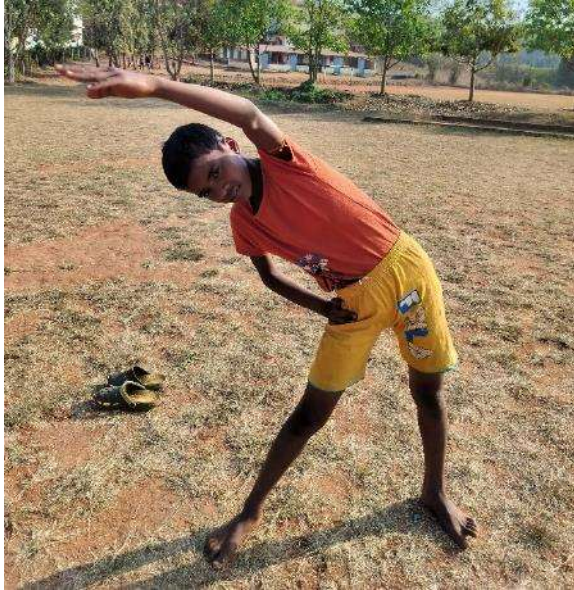

In art class, Anamika does various activities, including drawing and making hanging decorations. She enjoys art class very much. She has experimented with warm and cool colours. She focuses mainly on drawing and has created nature drawings.

Puzzles

Anamika loves fixing puzzles. She is always on time for the class. With all her interest, she tries to tackle the puzzles all alone. But while solving puzzles in a group, she gets engaged in talking and is unable to fix the puzzles.

She is reminded to focus on the puzzles. She also needs to learn to sit properly during the class. She is capable of fixing the puzzles of above 800 pieces.

Games

Anamika starts her games at four o'clock. Before starting the games, she does exercises like side sit-ups, windmill, sit-ups, push-ups, joint exercises and running exercises to warm up. Her favourite game is football. On different days she plays different games like football, base-kickball, basketball and minor games with her friends. She always tries to come on time for the class.

Yogasana

Shramdaan

Anamika is punctual for shramdaan. She understands the importance of shramdaan and does each activity with dedication. She remains very active during shramdaan and does the assigned work properly.

She feels even more energetic by doing shramdaan. She enjoys doing all the activities such as hostel cleaning, toilet cleaning, school cleaning, gardening and kitchen work. But her favourite shramdaan is to cut vegetables in the kitchen.

Satsang

Anamika loves attending satsang every evening. She sits erect while chanting mantras. She also tries to maintain her posture throughout the satsang. She enjoys singing the varieties of songs such as bhajans, patriotic songs, and Hindi, Odia and English songs. She loves singing bhajans of Sri Aurobindo and The Mother the most. She has got a loud voice, so she is audible even when she sings with the group. She sings very confidently when asked to sing alone. She takes a lot of interest in singing and learns new songs attentively. This is because she wants to become a singer when she grows up.

Celebrations

Anamika becomes very happy when festivals and special occasions approach as she loves celebrating them. She takes keen interest in participating in the programmes and performing dramas, dances and songs which are performed in the functions in the school. Anamika prefers and enjoys performing dramas more. She is quite good at acting and speaks her dialogues clearly and confidently on the stage. On Children's Day, Anamika was very happy to go for a picnic. She swam and even learnt kayaking as the picnic was near the reservoir, and once she was confident, she went kayaking with Ruhani independently. They went quite some distance in the kayak. She enjoyed doing kayaking the most at the picnic. She sang a sargam on 29th November with her friends. She performed a dance on Christmas along with her friends. She had great fun dancing. On The Mother's birthday, she took part in a play which was in Hindi. She enacted the role of a narrator. She spoke her dialogues with confidence and with clarity. But she needs to speak her dialogues slowly and not rush through. On Holi, Anamika had a lot of fun playing with the colours, eating delicious food from the stalls and having a mud bath with her friends. She enjoyed eating pani puri the most as it is her favourite.

Sports Day- On Sports Day, Anamika had participated in the pyramids. As Anamika was the youngest and the lightest, she was on the top of each pyramid. Anamika has a good concentration and is able to balance and maintain a good pose. Anamika practised a lot and worked very hard as hers was the most difficult part of all. On the final day she performed very well.
