Project

Animals: Joshib's joyful demeanour during the animals topic reflected his interest and engagement. While he encountered difficulties with certain animal facts, he eagerly participated in activities like solving puzzles and drawing pictures. His enthusiasm for drawing a camel showcased his determination to excel and seek attention.

Flowers: In the flowers topic, Joshib displayed eagerness to learn and actively participated in artistic endeavours such as drawing flowers and making borders for charts. Despite struggling to keep up with the class, Joshib's heartfelt reflection on his role as Aditi the white lotus and his emotional connection with flowers underscored his genuine engagement with the topic.

Clothes:

Joshib could benefit from improving his concentration in class and reducing distractions from his friends. He often seems lost in his own thoughts but shows skill when drawing pictures of clothes, displaying beautiful use of colours. While he has attempted origami, more practice is needed in this area. His scribbling tends to be messy, indicating a need for neater execution. Joshib struggles with understanding English, only knowing the names of a few clothing items. He tends to forget what he learns quickly and exhibits fidgety behaviour in class. Although he rarely expresses himself, he eagerly responds when prompted with the word "who".

Math

He comes for the class with a happy mood and loves to do counting with his friends. Now he can recognise the number symbols from 1-12. He seems to have difficulty in understanding and retaining some of the maths concepts and still needs strengthening in the concept of addition, subtraction, Tens and ones, word problems and the other concepts we have covered.

English

Joshib is often absent in the school. He has to work very hard in learning the alphabets because he is way behind. He is unable to recognize the letters. By seeing the chart of alphabets, he arranges the letters but can't do it himself. He sits in the class but he's mind is somewhere else, between the classes he gets up and starts dancing and sometimes he starts making the band baja sounds of the village. He is very fidgety and restless in the class. He needs some special attention, and the teacher is giving him some time but he just can't learn it. Whenever he is asked something, he just smiles and doesn't respond anything. His problem is he doesn't understand half of the things that is told. He is always in trance.

faces challenges in completing them. However, his willingness to speak up reflects his determination to overcome obstacles and improve his storytelling abilities.
