INTRODUCTION

My name is Rashmi Mali. I am 14 years old. I like studying in this school very much. My favourite sport is basketball. The subjects I have chosen to study are Painting, English, Home Science, Hindi, and Social Science. My favourite subject is English. In my free time, I like to read books.

YOGASAN

My yogasan starts at 6:00 AM and goes until 6:30 AM. I am regular and always come on time. I do many asanas like Paschimottanasana, Padmasana, Butterfly Pose, Garudasana, Surya Namaskar, etc. My favourite pose is the Natarajasana; I like doing it very much. I am not able to do all the asanas perfectly, but I try my best. We do joint exercises and stretching every day.

SHRAMDAN

In shramdan, I clean the girls' hostel every day. I do many cleaning tasks like toilet cleaning, sweeping the common floor, staircase cleaning, and cleaning the water filter, etc. I like cleaning the filter very much. I make sure to clean everything properly. I do all my tasks regularly and start on time every day. I enjoy doing shramdan very much.

PAINTING

I am studying the Class 10 NIOS Painting book. In painting, I am able to understand all the chapters. However, I am not clear on the chapters Sringar, Jain Miniature, and Raslila, and I need to go through them again. The first and second chapters were very easy for me, and I also took a test on them, in which I got good marks. But I did not understand the fifth chapter properly, so I did not get good marks on that one. However, I wrote as much as I could remember.

When Didi explains, I am able to understand properly, and if there are any words I do not understand, I ask her. While reading, I also complete the question-and-answer exercises from the book. I am able to do them properly, but in the terminal test, I faced some difficulties, so I asked Didi for help. However, I am still able to do most of it. Most of the time, I understand all the chapters properly.

I also practise drawings in our painting class, either from our textbook or from imagination. Our course book is about to be finished. I like painting class very much.

ENGLISH

In English class, I have completed the syllabus. However, I was still not clear on some parts, so I am revising the chapters again in class. Now, I am more confident in the chapters.

There is still one chapter from the second book, New Things from Rubbish, that I need to learn or have explained again. I have learnt many grammar concepts, such as how to write formal and informal letters, notice writing, active and passive voice, different types of nouns, and unseen passages. Now, I am reading the book and doing the question-and-answer exercises.

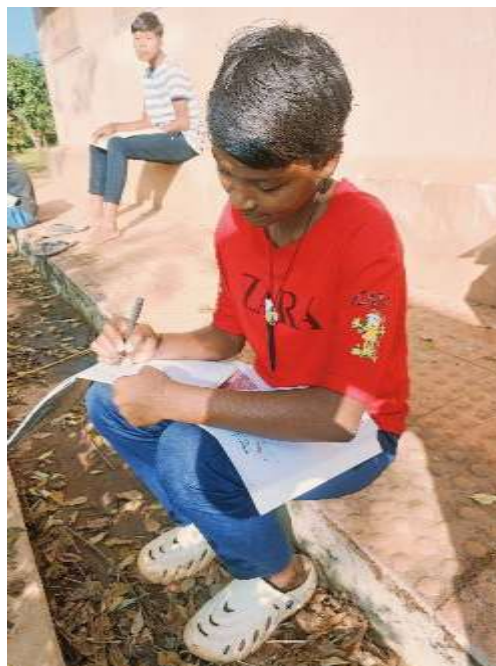

I am able to understand the chapters very easily, but answering the questions is a little difficult for me. However, I try my best. I have not given the test for the chapters from the first book yet, so I will take the tests after the second book is finished. I am also preparing for my test.

I am very confident in the chapters Prayer of Healing, Truth, and Village Pharmacy. Nowadays, I am revising the chapters from both books. I like English class very much.

HINDI

In Hindi, I am studying the Class 10 NIOS course book. I have completed the first book and am taking tests according to the chapters. I have also finished giving tests after the chapters were fully explained, and now I am taking them again so that I can revise properly. However, I have not fully completed the second round of tests for all the chapters, so I am just revising in class.

When I take the tests, sometimes I do well, and sometimes I don't, but I try my best. The chapters I found a little difficult are Robot Narsingh Home, Sukhi Rajkumar, Bharat Ki Ye Bahadur Betiya, and Akhbar Ki Duniya, but I try my best to understand them. The easiest chapter for me was Bahadur by Amarkant, and I found the other chapters very easy to understand. When Didi explains the chapter, I am able to understand it properly, and when she asks me to explain it, I can do so nicely in class.

Didi has not started grammar with us yet, so I have not done it. We are going to begin grammar after my first book tests are finished. Sometimes, though very rarely, I do free reading. I read Amar Chitra Katha, which I enjoy very much. I can understand the stories nicely.

In Hindi, I mostly focus on the course book and some grammar along with it. I like Hindi class very much.

HOME SCIENCE

In Home Science, I have completed the syllabus and also solved the question-and-answer exercises. Now, I am preparing for the second book's tests. I have also practised solving previous years' question papers.

Currently, I am doing practical work in Home Science. I enjoy doing practicals and different types of experiments. For my practical, I have to make my own objects, such as a toy, a first aid box, and a knitting mat. Didi has already made us write them in rough, and now I am doing the fair version in the practical file.

After that, I will take tests for both books and then focus on revision and exam preparation. I enjoy Home Science class very much.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

In Social Science, I am studying the Class 10 NIOS course book. I have been studying from both books and have almost covered all the chapters.

In History, I have completed all the chapters with Didi and have also taken tests for all of them. I have done question-and-answer exercises and written notes on most chapters. In tests, I sometimes get good marks because I am completely focused. However, when I do not see progress, it is usually because I am distracted or not paying attention in the group while the chapter is being taught. Still, I try my best to perform well in the tests. Nowadays, I am more focused in class, and I always attend regularly and on time. Sometimes, Didi makes us watch history-related videos.

The chapters I found difficult in History Were Impact of British Rule on India, Religious and Social Awakening in Colonial India, and Popular Resistance in India. However, I still tried my best to understand them.

In Geography, the chapters I found difficult were Physiography of India, Biodiversity, and Population: A Great Resource. The chapters I found easy were Climate, Agriculture in India, and Transport and Communication. I have taken tests on a few chapters in Geography.

In Civics, I have completed a few chapters, including Constitutional Values and Political System in India, Fundamental Rights and Fundamental Duties, India: A Welfare State, Local Governments and Field Administration, and I am currently studying Governance at the State Level. I found most of these chapters difficult except for Fundamental Rights and Fundamental Duties. I have not taken tests on any of these chapters yet, as Didi has only explained them to us.

Sometimes, I read Amar Chitra Katha. I like Social Science class very much.

In computer class, most of the time, I practise using Typing Master. In Typing Master, I can do up to the third course properly, but after that, I find it difficult. Sometimes, I do painting, and sometimes, I learn something new. I have learnt how to make a table, but I can't fully remember the process of learning it. However, I enjoyed doing the activity.

When Bhaiya teaches something new in computer class, I struggle to follow the process, so I am a little slow in this activity. But I try my best. I like computer class very much.

In dance, I have not learnt many dances, but I am learning the hand movements. I can learn the steps taught by our teacher very easily, and I can also follow them quickly. I enjoy dance class very much and love learning the hand movements.

In Dashavatar, I played the role of Buddha, and with my group, I performed different avatars, including Parshuram, Vishnu Avatar, Krishna, Buddha, and Kalki. While performing, I was not scared and completed my role properly. I enjoyed participating in this programme.

TRIP

I went on a trip on the 21st of October. First, I went by bike to Koraput station and then took the train to Bhubaneswar. The first place I visited was Khandagiri and Udayagiri.

In Khandagiri, I saw Hanuman's temple and had darshan. There were many monkeys around. After that, I went to Udayagiri, where I saw rock caves that looked like a temple. I took many photos there. When I limbed to the top, I saw a beautiful view of the city.

Next, I visited Konark Temple. The temple was designed like a chariot, and there was also a park beside it. I saw many carvings and sculptures on the temple walls. Then, I visited Puri Temple, but since I went there at night, I couldn't see it properly. However, I had darshan and enjoyed the temple very much.

The next day, I visited Panchalingeswar Temple. It was located on a high hill, and I had to climb a long staircase. Inside a small cave, there were five small stones that symbolized the Panchaling of India. It was dark inside, so I couldn't see them properly, but I touched the stones. Inside the cave, the pujari was also performing puja. There were many trishuls and Nandi sculptures, and people were worshipping there. It was very sunny that day.

After that, I returned to my room, rested a little, and then had lunch. The next day, I visited Balasore, where I went to Chilika Lake. I took a boat ride to see dolphins, but unfortunately, I didn't spot any. However, I saw a small island and enjoyed the beautiful view of the ocean.

Next, I visited Nalanda University. I saw the students' rooms from ancient times, the samadhi (memorial), and the well they used. The entire university was made of bricks. It looked a little black because it was burned. Our guide explained everything about the university.

After that, I visited the road made by Dashrath Manjhi. In the evening, I attended the Ganga Aarti, which was a beautiful experience. I enjoyed it very much. Then, I visited Buddha's temple, where we took group photos.

After Gaya, we travelled to Lucknow and stayed in a stadium. I really liked staying there. On the first day, I visited Bhulbhulaiya. I enjoyed exploring the maze—it wasn't too confusing, but I still liked it a lot.
