Ratnesh Kudubi

April 2018 – March2019

Date of Birth:- 30th December 2009

General behavior:

Ratnesh is a happy and an independent child who is very sensitive and looks up to his elders for love and affection.

In the academic field, he has shown an improvement in every subject.

He takes his studies seriously and is attentive in the class.

He is active and alert and moves fearlessly in the school campus.

He is polite but when his friends trouble and disturb him he gets angry and sometimes cries too.

Projects

Science Toys:

Ratnesh was very enthusiastic about this and made various toys utilizing waste materials.

He made shooter box toys using rubber band and cardboard and later enjoyed playing with them.

He also liked his friends' toys and played with them.

He described the procedure of making the toys in his note book systematically.

Food and Health:

Ratnesh studied about the various nutrients like vitamins and minerals found in different foods and also learnt the cause of diseases and their symptoms.

He enjoyed plucking the mangoes from the trees. He loves to eat raw mangoes.

He helped in grating mangoes. His favorite food is fried egg.

CLOTHES:

He gained knowledge about many things related to clothes like their kinds, their sources, when they are worn etc.

He decided to make a Gujarati Boy and put in his best effort to dress him up in Gujarati costume.

HOUSE:

Ratnesh studied about the different types of houses and was totally engrossed in making the model of a beautiful hut.

He enjoyed coloring the hut in red and yellow color.

The Rajasthan, Agra and Delhi Trip:

He jotted down all the historical facts and figures of the places he visited and made posters with his class mates.

He didn’t remember the facts of different places later and was silent when asked.

He enjoyed watching video of different places and prepared himself mentally to visit new places.

Birds:

Ratnesh was interested in knowing about Flamingo and Penguin and really enjoyed making drawings of these birds on charts as it was his independent choice.

He took these pictures from different books.

When any related question was asked from him; he sometimes gave the wrong answer.

He made some charts on these birds. In the test he got 16 out of 20.

First-Aid:

He wanted to know about nose bleeding, fire fighting and tourniquet. He enjoyed learning about these topics because he was told that if he ever got hurt then he can treat himself even when nobody is around.

He needs to improve his understanding ability . But unfortunately he could not score good marks.

Soil and Conservation:

Ratnesh made charts on this and made many drawings on the chart and also wrote about soil and conservation.

He discussed it with his teacher and took tests on it. He went to see the water erosion near the school.

Rocks and Minerals:

He chose his friend Radhika to help him and both of them decided to study about metamorphic rocks.

Both of them made charts and pasted many pictures on them. He also took many tests on this topic.

Sometimes he gets distracted by his other friends, so he needs to improve his concentration a little.

He enjoyed looking at different types of rocks when he went to collect them near the reservoir and then he tried to identify them. He was interested in collecting different types of rocks.

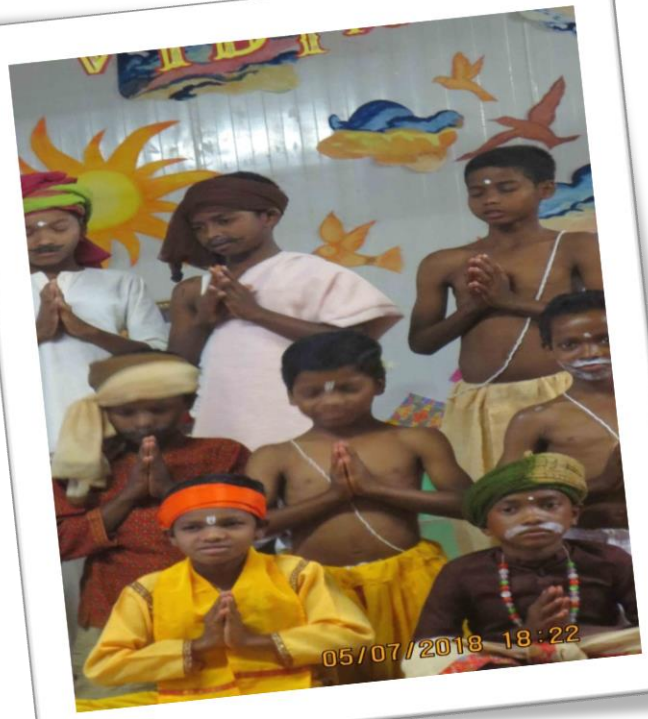
AIR:

chose to do an experiment on the layers of the atmosphere with Stuti.
He wrote about the layers of the atmosphere and drew the different drawings of all the layers.
After making the chart he explained it to his group children.
He did some experiments on air with his group children and really enjoyed doing them.

MATHEMATICS :

Currently, Ratnesh has completed the Grade Book 4 and is revising all the chapters for a test. He takes interest in class and has done many concepts like all the four operations, money, geometry, area and perimeter, fraction, time and measurement.

His understanding of word problems is poor and always needs help. He needs to work hard on some concepts otherwise he is good in mathematics.



He forgets the previous chapter when he moves on to the next one.

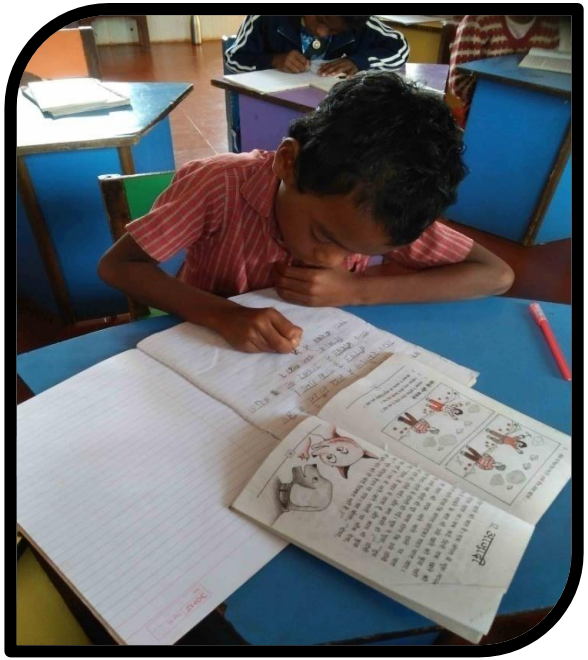
He takes time to find prime numbers and composite numbers.

Sometimes he tends to solve the problems quickly by using short methods.

They were given worksheets to test their understanding, but he got less marks.

COMPUTER:

Ratnesh likes the computer class. He starts and shut downs his computer by himself. He likes to draw different things using the MS Paint.



ORIYA

Ratnesh tries to identify different letters at the time of reading. His reading and writing skills are slow. He has speech problems in Odiya.

HINDI:

Ratnesh can read and understand Hindi. When he is unable to understand something he always asks the teacher. His handwriting is not so good. He likes to read and hear Hindi stories from the teachers. He has just finished Class 4 book and he has started on the book of Class 5.

ENGLISH

In English, Ratnesh is interested in reading books in the library. He speaks English in the class though his pronunciation is not good.

He tries his best to continue doing it despite the small mistakes that he makes. He has improved his comprehension skills and loves to do grammar. In grammar, he has learnt about different types of nouns, adjectives, articles, singular, plural, masculine and feminine gender besides learning the use of full stop, questions marks, comma and exclamation marks. He tried to finish the fifth book of grammar as well.

Ratnesh is neat in his handwriting if he writes slowly. He listens carefully to the questions and manages to give the correct answer. He is ready to participate in all types of dramas and is happy with any role. He had to concentrate a lot to memorize his dialogues. He likes to watch English movies.

Art & Craft:

He didn’t attend in the art class during these six months because he had to attend other classes.

But whenever he gets an opportunity to do any creative work, he does it with interest.

He loves to do drawings and makes them attractive by coloring them beautifully.

Sports & Games

He is always ready to play all types of games with his friends and have a lot of fun. He doesn’t want to spend time on exercises.

He is very attentive and alert while playing and tries to win the games . On the basket ball court, when he gets the ball he runs as fast as he can and tries to shoot the basket.

When he falls, he sometimes cries and then soon forgets about it and resumes playing. He practices shooting, dribbling and passing, etc.

In the morning, he comes to the yoga class on time and tries to do the different postures and asana, but he has to be more concentrated and interested to learn them better.

Celebration & Festivals:

On the School Foundation Day, Ratnesh participated in the play “OM/Price of gems” as a merchant.
On the Environmental Day, he planted Dalda plants on campus. On August 15, he was in the play “Jagao Mere Desh Ko” with the humility group children as a child.

On Janamastami, he took part in Shyamantaka Gem play as one of the villagers. On Ganesh Puja, he acted as Ganesh. He learnt the “Ganesh Pancharatnastotram”.

He remembered the lines though his speech is not very clear. He is flexible and is ready to take any role given to him.

For December31, he acted on a joke of teacher and student. The audience loved it and was in fits of laughter.

His character was of a boy who stammered and who pronounces each word in such a way that the meaning of the words change. He acted superbly in the skit.

On the Mother's Birthday, he participated in the play "Jagat Janani Shri maa". He had the role of an experienced teacher who talks about Mother.

During the practice he was often changing the structure of the lines. Hence, grammatical errors used to occur. But gradually he changed.

Dance & Music:

He was too interested in dance and really enjoyed learning dance with his group. On the Independence Day, he performed well on the final day.

He is sincere boy in the flute class. Though his fingers are too thin for playing the flute still he manages quite well and is confident in all the notes. But he needs to improve even better.

He is also able to play simple exercises. In September, he joined a music workshop and participated in the orchestra.
